Editorial Policy

Accounting and Business Research publishes papers containing a substantial and original contribution to knowledge. Papers may cover any area of accounting, broadly defined and including corporate governance, auditing and taxation. Authors may take a theoretical or an empirical approach, using either quantitative or qualitative methods. They may aim to contribute to developing and understanding the role of accounting in business. Papers should be rigorous but also written in a way that makes them intelligible to a wide range of academics and, where appropriate, practitioners. Presentation should be as elegant and economical as possible, avoiding unnecessary words, numbers or symbols.

All papers are subject to peer review on a double blind basis, either by members of the Editorial Board, or by invited reviewers of international standing. Reviewers are asked to comment in particular on the contribution, motivation and rigour of the analysis presented in the paper. The editor carries out an initial check that papers submitted comply with the guide to authors and advises authors where a paper has not met the essential criteria. Continuous monitoring of the review process aims at providing timely but informative feedback to authors. Subject to the recommendation of reviewers, research notes and commentaries may be published.

International diversity is welcome, both in the affiliations of the authors and the subject matter of the research. Care is taken in the review process to recognise the international nature of the papers submitted and of the readership.
